

Minds in Mining - Breaking new ground for the future

A global initiative to help brilliant minds break new ground in their career with Hellas Gold

Hellas Gold, a subsidiary of Eldorado Gold, is one of Greece's largest mining companies, which develops & operates the Kassandra Mines located on the Halkidiki Peninsula in northeastern Greece, a region with a 25-century mining heritage.

The Kassandra Mines Complex includes an underground gold-silver-lead-zinc mine in Olympias and the world-class gold-copper Skouries Project, which is currently under construction and, when in production, it will create significant positive economic and social value at local and national levels. At over US$3 billion, the full development of our assets represents one of the largest foreign direct investments in the country and will enable Greece to become one of the leading gold & copper producing nations in Europe.

Committed to bringing together some of the best minds to unlock the full potential of our assets, we are excited to announce the launch of our “Minds in Mining” Talent Program, an exceptional opportunity for ambitious and motivated graduates who are eager to kick-start their careers and make a real impact in the global mining industry.
